REAL FACTS OF OIL DISTRICT DENY MANY FALSE ARGUMENTS

Last week The Edmonton Journal published the following editorial which should be read by every independent oil man and automobile owner in Alberta, says the "Irma Times".

THE IMPERIAL OIL COS WORK

The letter which the president of the Imperial Oil Company sent to the Vancouver Sun, in reply to some articles which appeared recently in its columns, should have the effect of silencing such criticisms. They are not for the public good. While the company is anxious to promote its own interests, its extensive program of exploration is also very much in the interests of the whole country as well. Oil will never be found unless someone takes the risk involved in drilling. The Imperial people have already spent three million dollars in their effort and every encouragement should be given to them to persist in this. If they succeed, Canada at large will gain much more than the companies shareholders.

It possesses no monopoly in the Alberta field. As Mr. Stillman points out, around each of the wells that it has drilled there are thousands of leases held by those who will profit if oil is struck. The federal treasury has been enriched by large sums through rentals and in case producing wells are obtained there will be much greater amounts collected in royalties. To talk about the Imperial organization as if it were a public enemy is not only nonsense, but dangerous nonsense. Idle chatter of this kind might quite conceivably help to bring about abandonment of the search. At any rate it is only fair to recognize that in the policy that it has pursued the company has been doing a very real national service.

LET'S SEE

The oil companies in Houston and other Texas points are delivering gasoline from their tank wagons at six cents per gallon, wine measure this would equal 20¢ per gallon imperial measure. Coal oil is being delivered at eleven cents per gallon, which equals a fraction over 14 cents per gallon imperial measure. A few years ago the oil business in Texas was in the hands of the Standard and its subsidiaries, what now? True the Imperial Oil Co. does not possess a complete monopoly of the oil lands of Alberta; they don't, whose fault is it, truly not the Journal's. They allow that they have a monopoly in the development of oil and appear very anxious that no one else gets a chance to share in it.

WHO OWNS ALL THE LEASES?

Let us look over the six Townships between Wainwright and Irma and see where the thousands of independent leaseholders that surround all their locations are. On account of the Hudson Bay Co. taking part of the home-stand land turned over to the government in the Buffalo Park, there are not as many leases available as in most districts. The Hudson Bay Co. have reserved the leases on their land in this district for parties at present unknown to us. In Township 45, Range 7, W. 4, there are 10,800 acres of government land available for leasing which has all been leased, to some twenty different parties. The Imperial Oil Co. only appear to hold 1920 acres being Sections 18, 29 and 30. The California Canadian Oil Company or "Esrey" Arnold Co. own 2720 acres just east of the Imperial well and includes everything within three miles of it except one lease of 160 acres. The Drumheller Oil Co. owns some 1600 acres east of this again. The British Petroleum Co. owns around 1000 acres along the north and east side of the Hudson Bay. The Irma Oil Co. owns six hundred acres in three different sections and the Baxter Lake Co. owns 320 acres leaving 1780 acres divided among 15 other parties. Within a two mile radius of the Fabyan well in this township only three leases can be touched that are owned by others than the Imperial Oil Co. In Township 46-7, Range 8, W. 4, there are approximately 12,800 acres of leases of which the Imperial owns at least 7,680 acres leaving 5,120 acres held by not over 8 other parties most of whom own leases in the other townships. In Township 46, Range 8, W. 4, there are 11,680 acres of government leases of which the Imperial owns 7,200 acres. The British Petroleum and Irma Oil Co. own 1,800 acres leaving some 2,680 acres

LOCAL NOTES

Mr. R. A. Aikroyd was a business visitor to Edmonton over the week end.

Mr. H. C. Montgomery was in the city on business last week end.

Money to loan on improved farm lands; see Mel Fraser at Imperial yard or phone 10.

We are glad to know that Mrs. Herb. Walker who has been on the sick list is now improving.

Mr. A. Scofield was a visitor to the city for a few days last week end.

Black Diamond coal stands the test. Most heat and least ash. Atlas Lbr. Co., phone 57.

Mr. S. Lewthwaite who was a delegate to the Fairs Convention at Calgary last week has returned home.

We learn that Mr. A. Wheaton became the proud possessor of a new piano last week.

We are glad to know that both Mr. R. Dunsmore and Jim who have been under the weather with severe colds are now both feeling better.

All members of the Rebekah degree are asked to make a point of being present at lodge tomorrow (Thursday) evening when important business will be discussed.

BENEFIT CARNIVAL BY BAND BOYS THURS. NIGHT

It is expected that the largest and merriest crowd of the season will be at the rink tomorrow (Thursday) night. The Band Boys have given considerable trouble and made every preparation to secure an enjoyable affair, and many new costumes are looked for on the ice.

All wearers of fancy costumes are asked to be on the ice not later than 8:30 sharp; the judging will commence at that time and as soon as the prizes are awarded the ice will be open or public skating till 10:30 p. m.

Bring your skates, whether in costume or not; have a real good time and at the same time help the band.

The following are the prizes for the carnival:

- Lady's fancy—Silk Hose.
- Gent's fancy—Silk scarf.
- Gent's fancy—Gold eversharp pencil.
- Boy's fancy—Fountain pen.
- Lady's comic—Box of paperettes.
- Gent's comic—Saw razor.
- Gent's comic—Ivory jewel case.
- Boy's comic—Wooden toy.
- Best Fancy Couple—Silver signal tongs and gold chin knife.

for 15 other holders of leases. In Township 45, Range 7, W. 4, there are some 14,080 acres of government leases of which the Imperial owns about 7,680 acres. The Alberta Associated Oil Co. own 2,560 acres in this township which are supposed to be controlled by the Imperial. The Alberta Pacific Oil Co. own 640 acres leaving 3,200 acres to be held by some twelve independent parties. It was in this township that quite a stir was caused last November when at a sale of cancelled leases at the Dominion land office the Imperial bought all but four acres of 4,000 acres of leases that had been cancelled for nonpayment of dues or fulfillment of the required development. Most of these leases had

PANTOMIME AT THE ELITE THEATRE DRAWS BIG CROWD

The children of the Holmstead school assisted by some of the "grown ups" of Greenhead, presented the burlesque pantomime "Robinson Crusoe" in the theatre on Thursday evening last.

The performance was due to the creative Daniel Defoe, and was based entirely upon the famous Manchester pantomimes.

The first act, Robinson's school, dealt with the days when Robinson attended the village school of learning. The professor controlled (more or less) the pupils who persistently cracked jokes at his expense. Lorraine Defoe insisted on singing "Twice one are two" and Robinson told what Bill Brown had informed him on Fifth Avenue, in his song "I'm a daddy." Possibly the most appreciated item of this scene was the acting of Gilbert the Filbert, who sang the old London ditty when the character was named. He was well supported by a chorus of boys.

Act II dealt with the voyage through the "Bay of Biscuits," and a warning was issued by the captain that we would be treated to a real shipwreck in the next scene. Lorraine Defoe, supported by a sweet bevy of fairies, sang "Swing me in the moonlight," and a burlesque on "The long trail" was well received.

The professor getting discouraged, wished for some entertainment, so a dance was introduced for his special benefit, and it was during this number that "Handspring" insisted on performing backwards just to show that "it can be done," despite orders to the contrary.

In the next act, the curtain rose upon a raft-beamed in the middle of the ocean, with the Widow Spank Twanky suffering from a serious attack of "male de mer," although the lady, old as she evidently is, showed us that she still has some pep left when she danced to the chorus of Daniel's song, "Coal Black Mammy o' mine."

The spelling burlesque was very good, and of course Daniel again got all the money, and Gilbert the Filbert, who was undoubtedly the star of the evening, again distinguished himself with "She pushed me into the parlor," introducing the whole chorus and forming a fitting finale for the act.

In the opening of the last act, we find Daniel still chasing the money by way of operations in a tonsorial parlor, and although his only "customers" were the widow and the professor, these must have been well satisfied for they concluded by eating all the "soap."

Before the grand closing number, "Good-bye," by the whole company, the releasing of Robinson Crusoe by the good Fairy after the death of the witch, formed striking scenes, and as is usual with pantomimes—"they all lived happily ever after."

The training of so many youngsters in the various parts of the programme showed great ability and patience, and all acquitted themselves in great style. Throughout the evening other songs and recitations were interspersed, and a number of topical skits on the local merchants "brought down the house."

At the close of the concert, a hospital supper was provided by the ladies of the U.F.W.A. after which a dance which was very large crowd enjoyed was kept going till four a. m. to the sweet strains of the "Telford" and Messrs Brunker and McKay.

RETURNED MEN THOROUGHLY ENJOY SOCIAL GET-TOGETHER

A large number of the returned men in the Wainwright district, having been advised of a reunion gathering for themselves and their wives, assembled in the rooms of the High School last Friday evening to enjoy a social "get-together." The rooms had been suitably decorated for the occasion by Principal Suckling and pupils of the High School. The black boards had inscribed upon them such reminders of the days of 1914-18 as "40", "3 C. M. R.", "151", "C. A. S. C.", "M. T. C. A. M. C. M. G. C.", and the maple leaf—chiefly the work of Helen Aikroyd and Miss Mabey.

The first part of the evening was spent in Progressive whist, 17 tables being in action. Mrs. H. Y. Pawling and Miss Vera E. Limerpet presented the 1st and 2nd ladies' prizes and Messrs F. G. Cope and Charles Eager the gentlemen's. A short vocal programme followed.

Miss Helen Aikroyd, Mrs. George Gregson, Miss Dorothy Primrose and Mr. George Gregson rendered number which were greatly enjoyed, each performer being called upon for an encore.

A dainty lunch was then served under the supervision of Mrs. Suckling and Mrs. Stan. McLehane assisted by the lady teachers of the Wainwright school. An impromptu programme followed in which Messrs C. H. Pilgrim, Woods, Morris, Boyer and others "did their bit" interspersed by wartime choruses and marching songs of those long-to-be remembered days.

Mr. Guy Boyer made a feeling appeal in memory of the comrades of those days who lie "over there" in Flanders Fields and in England, their graves marked by little wooden crosses. One sounded the gathering breaking light on the advantage of getting together occasionally for such reunion and intimated that it would not be long before "orders" would be again issued for another such assemblage. The parade ground was now cleared in manoeuvres which were enjoyed by practically all present until "Light Out" sounded, the gathering breaking up with many expressions of the enjoyable evening spent and assurance of being present when the next "muster roll" is ordered.

LADIES OF THE HOSPITAL BOARD ARE RENEWING ACTIVITIES

A meeting of the Wainwright hospital union was held in the Council chamber on Saturday afternoon last for the purpose of electing officers for 1923.

Mrs. J. H. Dawson was re-elected as president, with Mrs. W. E. Washburn as secretary and Mrs. H. Y. Pawling as treasurer. Five new members were enrolled in the persons of Mesdames N. S. Kempy, A. Lasele, E. Turner, J. Welch and G. L. Hudson.

The Wainwright hospital union was formed during December 1912 with the hope that Wainwright would then soon be in a position to build a hospital which was (and unfortunately still is) most urgently needed. It was felt that the ladies of the town could do the work towards promoting this good work by raising money for equipment such as linen, etc., by appointing committees to visit the sick, by the extension of good cheer to patients by means of books and flowers, and by working in co-operation with the hospital board of management.

The members of the hospital union worked with such success that after making a donation of one hundred dollars towards a hospital ship at the outbreak of the late war balance of no less than $917.20 remained to their credit at the close of the year 1914.

The immediate prospect for a hospital at that time being anything but bright, and so many needs arising from women's work in connection with the war, made it seem wise to drop active work on the project for a time, and accordingly the books were placed in the Union bank and meetings have been discontinued until the president called the meeting above under notice.

The balance now standing to the credit of the Wainwright hospital union is $1163.00. Former members desiring to place themselves in good standing, or new members wishing to enroll, may do so upon payment of twenty-five cents. annual dues.

The whist drive which was staged last evening by the members of the returned men was a decided success, the prize list of which will appear next week.

LOCAL NOTES

Miss Orric, of town, has a guest this week in the person of her sister Mrs. Wheeler.

Just arrived a car of Pembina coal, nice clean-bright lumps. Just the thing for the furnace. Alberta Pacific Grain Co., phone 8.

If you don't like carrying out ashes burn Black Diamond coal, the very best for your furnace. Atlas Lbr. Co., Phone 57.

We extend sympathies to Mr. W. O. Blinn who has had the misfortune to lose a real good horse from the effects of indigestion.

We are glad to know that Mrs. Archie Beckett, who has been indisposed has now recovered from her recent illness.

After being in attendance at the big winter carnival in the city last week, Mrs. J. Geroy returned home on Saturday.

A decided improvement has been added to the local railroad yards in the shape of several tall electric lights distributed through the maze of trackage.

THE EXAMINER'S WEEKLY REVIEW OF PROV. MARKETS

Thursday, January 25, 1923

CATTLE

HEIFER—Good quality in some of the lot sold on the market this week advanced the top, and the demand for this class is good. Choice heavy steers, $5.00a$6.25; choice light, $5.50a$5.50; good, $4.00a$4.50; medium, $3.50a$4.00; common, $2.50a$3.00. Choice cows, $3.50a$4.00; good, $3.00a$3.50; medium, $2.50a$3.00; common, $2.00a$2.50. Choice heifers, $4.25a$4.75. Choice calves, $3.00a$3.50; good, $2.50a$3.00; medium, $2.00a$2.50; common, $1.50a$2.00. Calfes firm, with tops $4.50a$5.00; common, $2.50a$3.00. FEEDERS STOCKERS—Choice deerhorn steers for eastern shipment $4.00a$4.50; other fair class $3.50 up. Stocker steers $2.00a$3.00. Stock cows, $1.50a$2.50.

HOGS

Edmonton market firm all week and basic price Wednesday was $9.25 ($9.50) with 10 percent premium on select bacon grade.

SHEEP

Sheep, receipts light at Edmonton; choice lambs quoted from $10 down to $9 for plain good ones; wethers, $7.00a$8.50; ewes from $6 down.

GRAIN

Wheat prices showing no improvement and buying Europeans not encouraging; unsettled international affairs probably responsible for some lack of business, but Great Britain appears to have sufficient for present needs. Coarse grains are not getting any demand from Winnipeg.

PRODUCE

All market movements slow, with trade reporting consumption light. EGGS—Alberta new laid quoted by dealers at 35c; coast fresh laid down Calgary around $1.20. BUTTER—Creamery unchanged at 36c41c for No. 1 and No. 2; country bulk sales on creamery around 35c46c. Dairy butter coming more freely, and fancy butter quoted by markets at 27c28c buying on grade, from 19c25c by dealers. CREAM—Prices unchanged. POTATOES—Market still very slow good sorted stock around 18c; common stuff at 15c; freely offered.

POULTRY—Not much moving; prices steady. Well dressed shipments getting a little more, with fowl and chicken, 12c415c.

HAY

Some business reported by dealers but offerings of upland and green feed liberal, and prices a little easier, around $10c$16 to farmers at country prices; green feed, $10c$12; timothy, $23a$25 to farmers at shipping points alfalfa, $15a$18.

HIDES

Dealers say they can make sales if they shade offerings low enough, but so far have not revised buying prices and though market is not bright, may hold at present levels, with green salted butchers, 35c46c; green frozen, 45c48c; raw, 35c46c; calf, 6c47c.

FURS

New York auction opened Monday; muskrats 35 percent under last sale there; white fox and marten sold well.

In the report presented to the rate payers at the annual meeting the fact that the W. of our town raised $93.50 for work at the cemetery was overlooked, and we hasten to tender thanks for this real help.

CURLING CLUB'S PRIZE LIST OF THE ANNUAL BONSPIEL

ANOTHER PAPER HAS SUSPENDED

The Bruce Peninsula News published at Lion's Head ceased publication last week. An increase in the cost of newsprint for the coming year was the last straw, according to the editor. This is the third paper that has ceased publication already this year, the others being the Preston Progress and the Owen Sound Advertiser. Plain newsprint advanced during December, further increasing the cost of publication of every newspaper.—Galt Reporter.

CROSSING THE BAR

AGUSTA LIND

It is our sad duty this week to chronicle the death of Mrs. Augusta Lind, who passed away on Sunday night last at the advanced age of 72 years.

The deceased lady who was born in Sweden came to this country very many years ago, and settled on the N.E. 14-45-64 with her husband, who predeceased her in 1914. She has been for years a great sufferer from cancer and this disease was the ultimate cause of her demise.

Those left to mourn her loss include two sisters, Mrs. Werner, of town and Mrs. Hogdlin, of Minnetonka, and three brothers Messrs Gus, C. J., and Emil (Hedlund), to all of whom The Star extends the sympathies of the community.

The funeral took place from the town home of the deceased on Second avenue on Tuesday, Capt. Gardiner of the Salvation being in charge. The arrangements were carried out by the McLeod parlors.

DO TOWN AFFAIRS

INTEREST YOU?

Up to the present writing very little interest is any has been shown by the majority of our citizens in the approaching election for the vacant seats on the Council and School Board and it seems unfortunate, inasmuch as our ratepayers have become so indifferent regarding the matter of electing the most suitable persons to the public bodies of our town.

Heretofore the elections have been held before the close of each year, but owing to amendments to the Town Act, nominations are now fixed to be held on the first Monday in February of each year, with the elections (if required) for the following Monday;
this postponement allowing the year's business to be cleaned up and a full detailed report of all expenditure and the auditor's report thereon to be prepared for the annual ratepayers' meeting before the Council is re-constituted
for the following year.

This year there will be required to elect to the governing body of the town
a Mayor and four Councillors, while the School Board will need to have three seats filled. With regard to these last mentioned, we understand that Messrs. Lewthwaite, Boyd and Stuart, the gentlemen who have served their elector term thereon, are being spoken of as perfectly willing to return to these duties, and will in all probability be the only nominees for the vacant seats.

Regarding the City Fathers, Mayor Lally has elected a two-year term, and we understand it is not seeking re-election, while nothing can be gleaned with regard to the intention of Messrs.
Davison, Fish and Montgomery having been "out" this year. Mr. Yeager having resigned his seat will cause an ab-sential vacancy. Despite the fact that the past two years have been somewhat of a "marking time" period, we feel that Wainwright has gone ahead
at least some better than other towns of its size. New houses have been erected, our population has increased, and speaking generally we are well ahead of many of its size.

Much stress has been laid in recent years for need of economy, and we know it can be said with absolute truth that the Councils over which Mayor Lally has presided have faithfully performed their duties along this line. Probably the financial side of any governing body is the most important during these strenuous times through which we are passing, and many places have fallen into an unenviable reputation through misfortune or carelessness (through inability to meet their obligations. Some of these places have had to seek extensions of credit for their debtors while others have had to issue treasury bills to tide them over until taxes could be collected; meanwhile our own town, through the good management of our Councils past and present has not become so embarrased
as to cause undue regard to meeting our obligations faithfully and on time. Indeed the year just passed saw the total tax collections exceed by a goodly amount the sums which have in previous years been added to the deficiency on this account, and given a good executive head and a bunch of level-headed Councillors there is no reason why Wainwright should not prove the "Daddy of them all" when it comes to stability and progressiveness.

The right and proper time for the electors to vote deeply and seriously about these matters is on nomination day—which is Monday next—and see to it that those who they would have to govern the affairs of the town for the year 1923 are brought out for public approval and then supported in such manner as will assure their return to the vacant seats on the Council or School Board.

ALBERTA PEOPLE

INVEST MILLIONS

IN CERTIFICATES

Edmonton.—Sales of Alberta provincial savings certificates for the year
just closed reached highwater mark.
They amounted to $3,706,536 gross and notwithstanding heavy withdrawals there was a net balance of $664,269 of new business. The total amount now outstanding in savings certificates is $4,350,822.

Ninety per cent. of the investors are Alberta people, and the average account they have taken in individual purchases is $250. Some 6,000 accounts are being kept. Deputy-treasurer W.
V. Newson says he was struck a few days ago with the fact that one of the ledgers devoted to these accounts had had very few entries for money withdrawn but he did not know why this should be, in contrast with other lists of savings customers, until he examined the names in the ledger. Nearly all of them, he then discovered, were Mac
This claims Mr. Newson is another evidence of Scotch thrift.

The savings certificate scheme very manifestly has the confidence of the investing public. It is particularly in favor among farmers and laboring people, who form the majority of the purchasers. Now that the government has discontinued the sale of its un-backed bonds which were found to be unacceptably competitive with the regular

A Windbreak For Every Farm

(Experimental Farms Note).

Few people realize the important part that windbreaks can play on the farms in the great plains areas of West ern Canada. They are too frequently looked upon as a luxury that will be considered once the pioneer work on the farm is completed. Windbreaks around the farm buildings should be considered a necessary investment that every settler should make within a comparatively short time after settling on the land.

The initial cost is not high since the bond-selling business, by recognized dealers, it is confining its attention, so far as small investments are concerned,

to the savings certificates, on which it pays 4 1/2 per cent. interest.

Railway News

Present.—On retiring on pension,
after over 40 years in the service of the C.P.R., Edward Pumble was pursued by his associates at Prescott.

Lindsay.—The park at the C.P.R.
station was laid out a few years ago
and is today a veritable hodgepodge of trees and shrubs. The landscaping which the company
has been doing in its upkeep,
and the many who have admired it express regret that Lindsay has not a few more parks of this nature.

Vancouver.—The Canadian Pacific Railway Company is calling for tenders for the superstructure
of the new pier which the company is constructing here for the accommodation of its ocean liners. The foundation fill for the pier is already in place. The new work will give employment to several hundred men for approximately 12 months.
This is the largest work undertaken in several years in Vancouver by the Canadian Pacific Railway. The pier will be 850 feet long and 350 feet wide and its estimated cost is about $2,000,000. It is proposed to have it completed by September 30, 1923. Tenders are to be in by July

Port William.—One of the finest memorials of the recent visit to the head of the lakes and "Riet points
of His Excellency the Governor General, the Canadian Lord Byng of Vinny, and Lady Byng, is possessed
by A. A. Smith, trainmaster, Canadian Pacific Railway, in the form of a gold and enamel scarf pin presented to him by the Governor-General. The gift was made to Mr. Smith as a token of "appreciation of the splendid arrangements made by him for the comfort of the Governor General's party during their railroad journey from Port William to Kenora.

Montreal.—Mr. Alfred Price, General Manager, Eastern Lines, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, after over forty years of faithful and most efficient service, has been appointed his physicians, and to the great regret of all, finds it necessary to relinquish his post in an indefinite period. Mr. Price has, therefore, been granted extended leave of absence.

Mr. John J. Scully is appointed
General Manager, Eastern Lines.
Mr. George Hoar is appointed Assistant General Manager, Eastern Lines.

Mr. W. M. Neal is appointed General Superintendent, Algoma District, succeeding Mr. Scully.

Galt.—Work is now being started on the construction of the new depot
of the Lake Superior & Northern Grand River railways on upper Main street.

The new station will be 36 feet wide and 75 feet long and will run parallel with the railway tracks.
The foundation will be of concrete laid on the piles, while the building will be constructed of rug brick with stone trimmings. The roof will be of slate.

The waiting room will be in the centre of the building with a ticket office looking out upon the railway tracks. The baggage room and office will be located at the north end and a smoking room and lavatory accommodation at the south end. The best of materials will be used and all the most modern ideas in station construction have been incorporated in the plans.

Chatham, Ont.—Saturday night afternoon on the part of the officer and Lacroix Street near the C.P.R. crossing
when he noticed a number of children running out to the track to view trains passing. The children were getting a little close to the tracks, and Simmet took their names and spoke to one of the parents, George Hardey, and advised him to keep his offspring away from the tracks.

Hardey didn't like this interference on the part of the officer and it is alleged that he proceeded to tell him so in language which is not used in the best of circles. It is also said that the enraged parent took off his coat and wanted to fight. An intervention has been laid against him and he will explain his action in the police court.

Fort William.—A. F. Hawkins,
superintendent of terminals, Canadian Pacific Railway, received framed and autographed photographs of Lord and Lady Byng, as souvenirs of that happy characteristic of a very pleasant day spent at Savanne, a point a short distance
west upon the Canadian Pacific Railway. A letter, written Superintendent Hawkins, read as follows:
"Their excellencies, the governor-general and Lady Byng, of Vimy, desire to express to you their warmest thanks for all the arrangements
you made for their comfort and recreation at Savanne last Sunday.
They had a most enjoyable trip on the lake in the motor boat provided,
and feel greatly benefited by the rest which they feel was largely due to your trouble. Everyone on the train is very grateful to you for what you have done."

"Their excellencies hope you will accept the photographs of themselves, which accompany this letter
as a souvenir of what was to them
a very pleasant day."
Signed—A. F. Hawkins, major

Calgary Bye-election

In the bye-election in Calgary to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late R. C. Edwards, the successful candidate was W. M. Davidson, a former member of the house. He will occupy the seat on the independent bench which had been filled by Mr. Edwards.

Provincial Poultry Show

With over 2000 entries, the provincial poultry show was held in Edmonton during the past week, and was probably the most successful show ever held. Exhibitors from all parts of the province were there with birds. The officers of the provincial poultry association were elected as follows: President, J. H. Westbrook, Lethbridge; First Vice-President, J. Shackleton; Second Vice-President, W. A. Moore, Medicine Hat; Secretary-Treasurer, P. J. Tink, Calgary.

Freight Rates on Coal

During the visit of Sir Henry Thornton, President of the Canadian National Railways, the past week, to the province, a delegation headed by Howard Stutchbury, Trade Commissioner of the province and A. Chard, Freight Traffic Supervisor, waited upon Sir Henry to discuss the matter of securing a reduction in coal rates for railroad lots for eastern Canada. Mr. Chard believed that coal in railroad lots could be handled at about half the present rate to the east, since there was a demand for coal there. Mr. Stutchbury gave Sir Henry some very interesting figures as to the possibilities of the coal industry of Alberta.

Sugar Beet Industry

Residents of the Raymond district and other irrigated districts in the south of the province are making an effort to revive the sugar beet industry.

Immigration

Hon. R. G. Reid, minister of health and municipal affairs, returned the past week from Ottawa, where he attended the conference of dominion and provincial cabinet ministers on the problem of immigration. Mr. Reid made it plain to the conference that Alberta was not in a position to encourage any wholesale immigration at the present time, but was prepared to absorb new settlers who had sufficient capital to establish themselves. He also pointed out that the province was seeking irrigation farmers particularly, for the new irrigation districts being opened up in the south.

Clark of House Ill

For the first time in the 17 years that he had been clerk of the legislature, John R. Cowell will be unable to attend the opening this session, being detained at the coast on account of illness. He expects to be in attendance later.

Want Cattle Inspected

A meeting of the western Canada livestock union held at Calgary the past week urged that cattle for export to Great Britain be inspected by graders appointed by the dominion government.

Foster Empire Trade

The foster inter-empire trade is the purpose of the Canadian British Corporation Limited of London, England, which is represented by Alfred Allen Watts, Canadian director who has been spending a couple of days in Alberta.

Trustees Convention

Alberta school trustees are to meet in convention in Calgary February 7 and 8. It is expected that over 1000 delegates will be in attendance.

The Legislature

A large number of private bills is already on the docket for the meeting of the legislature which opened this week.

Seed Grain Exhibition

Despite the rather disappointing year with respect to grain crops, the annual provincial seed fair held the past week at Edmonton was a remarkable success. There were over 300 exhibits of seed grain of all classes, and these included some of the finest seed ever produced in the province. Some of the grain which took prizes at the Chicago international was exhibited at Edmonton. About 50 per cent of the exhibits were of registered seed which is a big advance over last year. The boys and girls exhibit was a new feature this year, and produced some very fine samples. The special prize for marquis wheat was taken by A. Loughheed, Bowden. First prize for the essay was taken by J. W. Biglands of Lacombe. The special prize for potatoes was won by A. V. Farnsworth, Brooks. There was a splendid exhibit of seed corn. Brooks agricultural society won first for the best all round exhibit by agricultural societies, the society at Bowden winning second, and that at High River winning third. Harold Taylor, Strathmore won first for weed collection, second by Nettie Taylor, Strathmore, third by Norman Loughheed, Bowden. First prize for the essay on weed control was won by Norman Loughheed, Bowden, second by Harold Taylor, Strathmore, third by Nettie Taylor, Strathmore, fourth by Robert Clinie, Strathmore, and fifth by Chas. Bolland, Strathmore. Prizes in the seed show were well distributed over the large number of exhibitors from all parts of the province. The judging competition for teams from the schools of agriculture, was won by the Olds team with Claresholm second and Vermilion third.

Alberta Seed Growers' Organisation

At an enthusiastic convention of seed growers of the province held during the provincial seed fair in Edmonton this week, the "Alberta Seed Growers' Association" was organized, with the following officers: President, Major H. G. L. Strange, Fess; Vice-President, G. M. Stewart, Dominion Seed Branch, Calgary; Secretary-Treasurer, W. J. Stephens, Crops Commissioner, province of Alberta; Directors: John Lucas, Cayley; E. C. Halmann, Acadia; Don Bark, Brooks. The convention was addressed by several prominent speakers including Prof. Harrison of Manitoba, Dean Howes of Alberta University H. A. Craig, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, and on the seed fair, stated that it was the best he had ever seen in Canada.

Crop Averages

A total of nearly 3,000 threshers returns have now been received by the department of agriculture. The average crop yields over the entire province as shown by these returns are as follows: Spring wheat 11.60 bushels, Winter wheat 11.60 bushels, Oats 21.30 bushels, Barley 14.90 bushels, Rye 10.30 bushels, Flax 4.45 bushels per acre.

Government Farms to be Sold

The provincial demonstration farms at Stony Plain and Sedgewick are being advertised for sale. The Stony Plain farm was advertised for sale last year, but no sale was effected, and it has been decided to offer both the Stony Plain and Sedgewick farms. The farm at Stony Plain has 261 acres, and that at Sedgewick 640 acres. Tenders for purchase are being received up to February 8.

The Western Grain Route
General approval of the western route for Alberta grain has been given by the Alberta Government, following a conference held recently by Hon. J. Oliver, Premier of B. C., with the members of the Alberta cabinet. Further than expressing its general approval however, no action has been taken by the government, although the matter of reduction of freight rates has been discussed.

Unemployment Decreased

There is much less unemployment in Alberta this winter than last, according to published figures. Last week a total of 1175 men were registered as unemployed at the five labour bureaus in the province, as compared with 3753 at the same time last winter. A conference on unemployment was held by Premier Greenfield and Hon. Alex. Ross with authorities in Calgary last week, at which Premier Greenfield declared that he hoped every able-bodied man would be able to find a job this winter, since a good deal of work was being carried on by the government as well as other agencies. Contracts for bush, timber, and tie work had absorbed unemployed at Edmonton, and there had been further call for men in Canada at work was also to be undertaken.

FACIAL EXPRESSION

No. 10. Of a series of health talks, the text of which is approved by the National Dental Association.

People know you by your face. They judge you by your face. In fact, no matter what you are or who you are, you cannot escape from your face.

The shape and expression of the face depend greatly upon the number and position of your teeth. Lose your teeth and you lose your natural expression.

If your children's teeth are irregular, have them straightened. Don't allow neglect to rob the future citizen of Canada of their proper, normal, wonderful faces.

The most beautiful woman in the world cannot be without beautiful teeth; no drug store can supply enough cosmetics to restore the wrinkled, sunken face of her whose teeth are gone.

Artificial teeth are excellent substitutes for the real thing, if they are made right; but wouldn't you rather have the real thing? If you would, take care of your teeth.

Everybody has a certain amount of Civic Pride—this sort of pride which helps make a village a town and a town a metropolitan city.

The growth of any community is dependent upon the support given its citizens. If we fail in our co-operation the town either stands still or retrogrades. If we uphold the town by sustaining it wholeheartedly we help ourselves and the community. The theme of this advertisement is "Help our town, buy at home."

Let us divide our dollars among our merchants and fellow-citizens who have the interests of the community at heart. Help them and they will help us to greater values—for increased volume means decreased costs.

The city needs our support and we need the support of the town. Let's get together and share our fortunes.

CRUISING IN THE WEST INDIES.

(1)—Empress of Britain at St. Pierre, of Martinique, the scene of the volcanic eruption in 1902, when 30,000 people lost their lives. The path shown was once a busy street. (2)—Headquarter Palace of Cuban Republic, Havana. (3)—Statue of Empress Josephine, first wife of Napoleon, on Martinique Island, West Indies. (4)—Morro Castle, Santiago, Cuba.

SINCE ocean liners have been made as comfortable as the best city hotels, cruising has become very attractive to those seeking a rest. The luxury of the ship, the fresh breezes, the trips ashore at the places visited, the making of new acquaintances, the experiences gained only by travel make an "ocean cruise" an incomparable delight.

In former winters many Canadians and Americans escaped from the severity of the home winter by taking sea cruises. Cruises to the West Indies are very popular, not only on account of the mildness of the climate and the beauty of the scenery, but because of the romantic history attached to these places. In the seventeenth century the West Indies were the headquarters of large numbers of British pirates who preyed on Spanish trading ships. These pirates were in a large way responsible for destroying the commerce of Spain. A few of the interesting sights of the West Indies are banana plantations, mahogany groves, sponge fishing fleets, and woods of cocoanut palm trees.

Two cruises to the West Indies, and islands of the Spanish Main, Panama and Venezuela, will be made by the Empress of Britain this winter. The many special features that contributed last winter to the success of these Canadian Pacific cruises have been retained and new ones added. The Empress of Britain was again selected by the Canadian Pacific for the cruises to the West Indies by reason of her great popularity as a luxurious ocean liner of the most modern and comfortable type and size, being of 22,200 tons displacement. The Empress of Britain is also the only steamship making cruises to the West Indies burning fuel oil. This outstanding feature appeals to passengers who have travelled in the tropics as coal-burning or shifting coal at the various ports is eliminated and passengers are assured of spotless promenade and open spaces, with no noise, dirt or cinders.

The Empress of Britain is devoted entirely to the purposes of the cruises and no cargo is carried. In addition to the comforts to be found usually at the best hotels ashore, the food and service are of Canadian Pacific standard. The passenger accommodation is most attractive, and not more than two persons are booked in a room unless it is desired to accommodate a family party. Those who desire to travel alone will find a good proportion of single cabins. Other attractions include a gymnasium, swimming pool, verandah cafes and large decks for games and dancing. An augmented professional orchestra is carried for concerts and dancing.

The itinerary of the first cruise, starting from New York on January feeling around with his paw much too close to my stomach for comfort. I landed his two awful jaws with my jack-knife that gave her something to think about for a minute, and while she was coddling her paw, I crawled out at the other side of the heap and managed to flutter up into a small tree before she could quite make effective connections with the last part of me.

Being "up a tree" is powerful satisfactory sometimes, and so I found it. If I'd had plenty of time I could have grown a tree a whole lot better suited to my purpose, for the one I was in had planned to be a telegraph pole, and hadn't sprouted enough branches for a dicky bird to roost in. But, bless you, I wasn't in a complaining mood just then. And later, when I might have begun to get tired of being plastered to the trunk like a swallow's nest on the side of a barn, I had other important matters to worry about.

For what do you think that old bear did? At first she tried to stretch herself up high enough to get a claw into me, and the way she lengthened herself would have made things mighty disagreeable for me if I had been a foot lower down. But I was soon drawn to her in that game, and pretty soon she stopped the reach-me-down-quick business, and began all over again the other way round.

She started to dig—not in the crazy way an animal does when it's just too mad to hold in any longer and has got to tear up something, but in an as though she was digging a grave, with the corpse already waiting. No doubt she didn't really have a plan in her head to dig me down, but all the same, it looked uncommonly like it. And every now and then she'd take a squint up at me to see what the angels hadn't spirited me away while she was working.

Very soon, believe me I was unhappy enough for the whole State, for as luck would have it, I'd fluttered up into the very worst tree I could have found if I'd been looking for it. When I was drawn to her in that game, and pretty soon she stopped the reach-me-down-quick business, and began all over again the other way round. And every now and then she'd take a squint up at me to see what the angels hadn't spirited me away while she was working.

Very soon, believe me I was unhappy enough for the whole State, for as luck would have it, I'd fluttered up into the very worst tree I could have found if I'd been looking for it. When I was drawn to her in that game, and pretty soon she stopped the reach-me-down-quick business, and began all over again the other way round. She started to dig—not in the crazy way an animal does when it's just too mad to hold in any longer and has got to tear up something, but in an as though she was digging a grave, with the corpse already waiting. No doubt she didn't really have a plan in her head to dig me down, but all the same, it looked uncommonly like it. And every now and then she'd take a squint up at me to see what the angels hadn't spirited me away while she was working.

Pretty soon, what with digging and chewing, the old bear had got things so loose that every time she gave an extra savage pull on a root it made the whole tree wobble. And every time the tree wobbled it set my teeth chattering as loud that the old bear would stop work for a minute to see what was happening. The she'd grip and set to work again, making the dirt and roots fly something awful. Maybe my guardian angel was hovering near just then, but I didn't hear her wings, and I guess that if she was fluttering around these parts she was just waiting to bury me decently after the bear had taken me apart to look at my works.

Geel! but I had a pair of cold feet! I wasn't too frightened to keep my wits about me, though, and when I noticed that the tree was beginning to have an extra cant I sidled round so as to be on top of the trunk when it fell. And I wasn't too quick, either, for the next thing—crash! down she went, with me sitting astraddle the trunk, about fifteen feet from where the bear had her head hidden behind the fan of uprooted roots.

It was that fact that gave me my chance. If Mrs. Bear had been on the watch, as such an artful old brute ought to have been, she'd have nabbed me before I'd fairly hit the ground; but I managed to put some geology between us while she was getting her head dug out of the hole she'd dug, and then I snatched some more before she could put six hundred-weight of so of live meat in motion. Once she got up momentum, however, she over-hauled me like a stone falling down a cliff after a feather, and I began to have those funny sensations in my back that a man gets when he is expecting every second to feel sudden death take him between the shoulder blades for keeps.

They talk about terror lending wings to the feet, and likely enough it does, but it doesn't seem that way to the fellow that's running. I was scared pretty nearly to death, and ought to have had wings like a flying machine, but I felt all the time as if each foot weighed a ton and that the pair of them just dragged over the ground. In reality, though, I guess I was moving too swiftly to pay any attention to where I was heading, for the first thing I knew I came slapping to the edge of the timber, with old Mrs. Bear close behind.

Honest, I thought my time had come! I gave a look over my shoulder as I ran, and that old bear was right on my heels. She wasn't near enough, for you've got to let a bear get pretty close up before you can do that successfully; if you're a foot too far ahead the bear will cut you off for certain, for even the big bears can't they have thought I was a little private cyclone on my own legs. But it wasn't the least bit of use. That old bear drew up on me like a fox on a tame rabbit, and before I had covered a dozen rods I could hear her claws scrape-scrape on the hard ground close up under my coat-tails. Powerful moving sort of sound it was, too! It made the spirit uncommonly willing to run, but the flesh wanted to sit down and rest. There didn't appear to be any enterprise left in my legs, and I knew that unless something in the miracle business happened, I could imagine a heap of unpleasantness that was just about to happen behind my back, and I kept on shrivelling up like a scared owl. You know how an owl, when it's frightened and doesn't want to be noticed, keeps getting smaller and smaller, till there doesn't seem to be anything left of it. Well, that was Magalloway. Only I couldn't shrivel quite out of the scenery; that bear could see me right enough, no matter how small I felt. So I said my prayers mighty earnest, like I did when I was a child afraid of the dark, and made up my mind that I was considerable sorry for a good many things I had done in my time.

And I guess that was what saved me, for if I hadn't been saying my prayers so hard I should most likely have seen where I was going, and have dodged the very thing that gave me a brand-new dash on life. Even when he knows certain death is just on the point of nabbing him behind, a man isn't going to run into certain death ahead, if he can help it, and I reckon that if I had noticed the mud hole in time I'd have steered all round it—and been plastered all over the landscape before I'd gone another five yards. But I didn't see it until I was so you might say hanging over it with both feet off the ground, so I just did a couple of fairy steps on the thin rust—and got across like a bird. But that old bear—who didn't have any sort of luck, I guess she was too busy thinking her wicked thoughts to see anything but me in the picture, for she hit that mudhole in the middle of a jump, and smashed through like a live missile falling into a pot of nasty pudding. She went right in over her back. I heard the noise and looked round; and there she was, with nothing but her ugly head sticking out and her mouth full of dirt.

Well, say, I nearly had a thankful fit then. I could see that Mrs. Bear was mired for keeps, so I just set right down on the ground and let my tongue hang out of my mouth, while I coaxed gratitude and swear in praise. I was so nearly "all in" that once I was flat on my haunches, I couldn't have got up again, until I was rested. If the bear had managed to chew her way out and had come for me, which fortunately she didn't. The mud she was in wasn't thin enough for swimming, nor thick enough to give her firm support, but was in that sticky state that holds fast to whatever has the misfortune to get fairly mired, and in one, I haven't seen a real good mud-hole without wanting to take off my hat to it.—The World Wide

WHEAT MARKETING

My Dear Sir:

With the coming of the new year we must all try to forget past failures and disappointments and face the new that the future will bring brighter days, but, in our own future if we are to enjoy a full measure of success we must profit by our own experience and the experience of others.

When our present farmers' organizations were started almost twenty years ago, the key that was to open the door of success was co-operation; now dear readers, co-operation and compulsion are as wide apart as the poles. An element of our people desire in one, I haven't seen a real good mud-hole without wanting to take off my hat to it.—The World Wide

Mr. The great majority of farmers, organized and unorganized, have preached the doctrine of free trade insistently and persistently, for over forty years. If this doctrine is sound and I believe with some slight modifications, that it is, then there is no just reason for departing from our free trade doctrine.

It is usually wiser to reform than to destroy. The organized farmer have been instrumental in getting many reforms added to existing grain marketing facilities. We people who believe in freedom of trade, can co-operate with the farmer and sell our grain in the open markets of the world to our mutual benefit. It is a natural law that supply and demand ultimately govern price. Our overseas buyers desire a steady supply all the year round at a price in line with the price asked by other countries. We on our part have a tendency to dump our wheat on the market during the fall months, much faster than demand warrants. The average farmer has not the time, or the opportunity, to study the statistical position thereof, his wheat holds and to know the relative value of Canadian wheat as compared with wheat from other countries.

By starting a pool and securing the services of a staff of trained experts to manage the pool, whose duty it would be to study world conditions, and feel the main market, we could absorb the grain. It seems reasonable to assume that by this arrangement the risk and file would receive a larger price than they would by using our present system.

Please note, this is an important point of view, the main market, we must seek wider markets, and sell our product. We will gain nothing in the long run by getting a lion of artificially forcing prices up higher than supply and demand warrants. Dunning's plan presents us with the best available means of solving the question. His plan asks for neither compulsion, or a five year iron clad contract. His plan asks only for co-operation and good will on the part of all patrons.

My critics may not have faith in our farmer's mutual cooperation. To them I say: If evils have sprung up in our commercial organizations, given time these evils would grow to a government department, or a new company that we might start. Let us join hands to form a wheat pool to be based by our own country, a Voluntary Co-operative Wheat Pool.

Yours sincerely,
E. B. LANG.

Mr. G. Huddell, of Calgary, western manager for the Royal Fire Insurance Co., was in town for a few days last week on business.

Miss Norma Shirley, formerly of Wainwright, who has been residing in Edmonton with her parents has accepted a position in Minneapolis, Minn.

Sympathies are being extended to Mrs. A. C. Whetton, who on Sunday last through slipping on a stick in the cellar fell and broke her arm. She is now recovering nicely under the care of Dr. Wallace.

Although the local curlers played in hard luck at the Edmonton bonspiel, they did not return empty-handed. The rink consisting of Messrs. Dewar, ship, J. Heddell, W. Bowen and H. P. May came home on Monday with the third award in the "hard luck" event.

PRIZE MONEY IS ONLY SECONDARY CONSIDERATION

Calling attention to the need of retrenchment in all public expenditure, and emphasizing the fact that winning of prize money was not the real object in making exhibits at agricultural shows, but that it should be the establishment of type Hon. Geo. Hoadley minister of agriculture, sent a message to the fair convention through H. A. Craig, deputy minister. The minister referred to the success which had attended the administration of fairs in the province under the new system inaugurated by the department, last year, with advice of a committee of the fairs association. He said this was a justification of the new system, and that it had effected economies as well.

Regarding the need of retrenchment Mr. Hoadley said: "It is quite unnecessary, I am sure, for me to call the attention of the convention to the prevailing feeling that retrenchment in all forms of public expenditure should be practiced to the utmost extent possible, without curtailing the necessary activities or efficiency of any of the departments of the government. I feel certain, therefore, that with this sentiment so prevalent in our province to-day, this convention will recognize the need for each fair association itself to finance any enlarged activities it may contemplate, rather than look to the people of the province to furnish the funds."

"We hear a good deal of talk at agricultural shows and exhibitions of prize winners and prize money. I have always thought that we were prone to overlook the real object in the giving of prizes. It is not the purpose of an agricultural society in the offering of prizes merely to give money, nor should it be the sole object of the exhibitor to gain that money. There is a higher object in view and that is to ascertain and to establish the highest type possible in the particular class in which the exhibit is being made. If this object is kept clearly in view by all concerned, the benefits will be wide spread. The exhibit benefits by learning just what type to produce and just what kind of product is being demanded by the outside markets. The benefit quite obviously also extends to the fair association and to all those who visit the fair and study the exhibits. I believe that the importance of this is never sufficiently emphasized in conventions such as this."

TREE PLANTING INFORMATION BY LOCAL GARDNER

Fortunately most of the difficulties which faced the early settlers have been removed by the extensive experimental work carried on by the Dominion Experimental Farms and Stations, from whom reliable information can be obtained applicable to almost any locality.

In public parks, grounds of public institutions and mansions of wealthy people, trees, shrubs and hedges are planted on the artistic plan. In the first place, to improve the amenity of the buildings, to give a natural or landscape appearance to the surroundings and to afford protection from wind and provide cool shade in summer.

All that can be done in the city can be accomplished on the farm and more real benefit derived from the systematic planting of trees. Unless in a very few cases where natural protection is afforded by bluffs or other natural objects, the first consideration should be the planting of a shelter belt of trees on the north and west sides of the dwelling and at least forty yards distant from it. It is wonderful the amount of protection a few saplings or small trees afford, as you have probably experienced when driving on a cold day and exchange the open prairie for the side of a bluff.

THE BENEFITS The comfort and protection of a shelter belt will more than repay the cost of time and material in the saving of fuel.

For the protection of stock the shelter belt is the cheapest, best and most natural means of protection.

Light land which has been worked for several years and the soil has entirely disappeared is a source of disappointment and vexation to the farmer when the north and west winds blow carrying with it all the fine humus, the most valuable part of the pessimistic reports of oil in Alberta and the stringency of the money market the owners were unable to hold them longer or to get them developed. In Township 46, R. 9, W. 4 there are around 11,600 acres of government leases of which the Imperial own 75-20 acres. The Irma Oil and British Petroleum between them own about 2,480 acres leaving 1680 acres for six other owners. In 1914 Irma had two companies, The Alberta Associated Oil Fields and Gratten Oil Co. making an honest effort to get oil. At that time practically all of the land now under lease was owned by parties, many of whom left everything they had to go overseas thinking the country would be developed by the time they returned. What happened? The Imperial Oil Co. secured both of these rigs and dismantled them at which time their men were very sure that many knew that there would be no more oil development in this part of Alberta. This resulted in the abandonment of practically all the leases which have been since filed on by the Imperial and because a few independent companies are making an honest effort to secure oil which they claim they have not been able to find they wish to give the impression that no one else can find it. What has the Standard or its subsidiaries, the Magnolia, Texas, Gypsy, Sum & Humble and other big companies done in opening up new fields in different parts of the U. S. unless they controlled it hide and hare. It has been the little fellow who has done the trail blazing. Look at Oklahoma, Texas, California, Wyoming and Montana. Look at Mexico, Currie, Kossie, Burkhurst, Cat Creek, Sunburst and Smackover, which have all been opened up by the little fellow, under the eyes of the Standard and their subsidiaries.

The facts are patent to every thinking person, that, despite the sceptic journal, oil WAS found at the Fabyan well, and SEEN by hundreds of people. Possibly not enough to satisfy the Imperial Oil Co. but plenty to prove the contention of so many eminent geologists that Wainwright is underlain by the precious fluid, and the British Petroleum Ltd., Wainwright Oil Development Co., Baxter Lake Syndicate, Tapley Arnold Co., Alberta Holding Co., Irma Oil Co. and others are to be commended for exemplifying their faith in deeds which we fully believe are destined in a very short time to prove to the world that the "idle chatter" which might help the abandonment of the search will eventually turn into a noise like an oil gusher. Let it be soon!

As a means of protection some authorities advise laying the land down to grass for a few years. If it could be done it would be a temporary remedy. I believe the only permanent cure for the trouble in the planting of wide windbreaks at right angles to the direction of the prevailing winds.

This may appear to be a large undertaking but it will have to be done sooner or later if much of the land now under cultivation is to be retained.

By actual observation Dr. Saunders at one time Director of Dominion Experimental Farms found the protection of a windbreak to be fifty feet for every foot in height. Thus a windbreak ten feet high would protect a field for a distance of one hundred and sixty-six yards.

A good garden on the farm will reduce the household expenses one third and provide more wholesome living than most of the concoctions put up in fancy packages and sold at fancy prices.

In relation to the garden the systematic planting of trees and hedges are necessary, they afford protection from the hot, dry winds in summer, add to the moisture by holding the snow in winter, and make it possible to grow good vegetables, small fruits and the more tender plants, such as tomatoes and peppers which without protection would be impossible.

Briefly the benefits of tree planting to the farmers are: General improvement of the home surroundings, increased value, protection from wind adding to the comfort of the home and a saving of fuel. They provide a means of preventing lost land from drifting and protect crops, provide shelter for stock and in a comparatively short time will provide fuel and fence posts. They make it possible to grow hardy vegetables better and the more tender kinds can be successfully grown when protected by hedges and trees. Extensive planting of tree would have a moderating influence on the climate generally and augment the shelter by moisture and prevent snow for a longer period in spring.
